The Impressionists: 65 notes and greeting cards in a $15.00 value. Designed with a humorous French-inspired eye, The Impressionists has been conceived as a large package of note and greeting cards that depict the paintings of various Impressionist artists. The package includes no less than 63 cards, all of which are displayed as thumbnails. Two of these are available in high-resolution as free samples in the demo version, but those who decide to make a purchase receive unrestricted access to high-resolution versions of all of them. As part of this package, users can enjoy works from a series of well-known painters, namely Renoir, Cézanne, Degas, Monet, Pissarro and Sisley. All of the cards included in the licensed version are formatted and can be immediately printed and used. The best part about the collection is the fact that, once purchased, it can be used for countless times, thus allowing users to send a virtually infinite number of greeting cards to their friends or family. Upon purchase, these cards are immediately available for download, and they can be used on any computer, regardless of the operating system. In fact, they can be enjoyed even on mobile devices, as well as a PDF editor has been installed on them. All of the cards included in the package are designed to fit size A9 envelopes (5.75" x 8.75"). However, users can also print them on larger paper sizes. With this package, users might never need to buy another greeting card. They only need to print the items included in The Impressionists, fold the paper in half, and they are good to go. The only software that needs to be installed in order to take full advantage of these cards is Adobe Reader. Once a card is opened in this application, users can simply hit the "Print" button, and they can hold the greeting card in their hands in almost no time.
