Feem - WiFi File Share is the only app that allows you to transfer large files across the internet at speeds 100 times faster than existing methods. Feem utilizes a secure, peer-to-peer file transfer model that allows you to transfer files directly from any device to any other device. With Feem File Share, there is no need to share files with friends and relatives in order to obtain large files. The whole process is encrypted and the connection is direct, without the use of a server. Just connect your computer with an internet connection and you can start transferring your files from one computer to another without the use of any cloud. Feem is completely free to use and it has been downloaded millions of times, so it's easy to find and is a great tool to use. Feem is currently available for Mac users and the developers are planning to release a similar app for iOS users as well. Download and install Feem for free. This way you can share files and keep track of your files securely on your desktop or laptop, and take advantage of advanced file transfer technology. Feem is the perfect app to use if you are using Feem for the first time, because it will guide you to download it and then you can start using it after going through the set-up process for the first time. The number of people using public Wi-Fi hotspots and unsecured routers increases as the network coverage expands.
